

Synthia Music / Copyright Agreement

I, _____, representing _____, located at _____, in _____, herein referred to as 'User', agree to the following terms and conditions with Suncoast Systems Incorporated, located at 6001 S. Hwy. 99 in Walnut Hill, Florida 32568, herein referred to as 'Suncoast', regarding the use and performance of music received from Suncoast to be played on a Synthia Hymn Music Player, herein referred to as 'Synthia'.

First, it is understood and acknowledged that music arranged and made available by Suncoast, at no cost to the User, is not in general MIDI format and will only play on a Synthia unit or a SynthiaPC program. It is further understood and acknowledged that, with this music, no copyright privileges or permission from possible copyright holders of the music is given to the User from Suncoast, its officers or agents. It is agreed that the user will either procure copyright permission to use copyrighted music from the copyright owner or its agent or will comply with the copyright law exemption clause as stated in the U.S. Copyright Law (www.copyright.gov/title17/92chap1.pdf). In particular, paragraph '110 Limitations on exclusive rights: Exemption of certain performances and displays', sub-paragraph (3) which states;

(3) performance of a nondramatic literary or musical work or of a dramatico-musical work of a religious nature, or display of a work, in the course of services at a place of worship or other religious assembly;

Based on the above 'Exemption' clause, it is the opinion of Suncoast, and not legal advice, that Synthia church music can be played in the course of a church service at a place of worship without impinging on the rights of the music copyright holder. If in doubt, the User agrees to consult with competent legal advisers.

The operation of the Synthia hymn player requires the use of a companion Midi synthesizer program such as MidiOx to provide a 'bridge' between SynthiaPC and the Midi environment. It is agreed and understood by the user that Suncoast does not have or convey permission for the user to use MidiOx. MidiOx is a 'Freeware' program freely available online (www.midiox.com) provided it is used for personal use and not commercially. The user agrees to comply with MidiOx freeware requirements and will agree to their user agreement when downloading the MidiOx software.

I agree to the above terms and conditions to use music supplied by Suncoast.
